Items listed as "Recommended" do not require a kosher symbol unless they are marked with a star (*)

Due to continual changes in the liquor industry, alcoholic beverages which are certified as kosher are preferable to those which are merely "Recommended"

This list is updated regularly and should be considered accurate until December 31, 2014

cRc - Liquor List

Bar Stock Items

Bar equipment (strainers, shot measures, blenders, stir rods, shakers, etc.) used with non-kosher products should be properly cleaned and/or kashered prior to use with kosher products.

Beer

All unflavored beers with no additives are acceptable, even without Kosher certification. This applies to both American and imported beers, light, dark and non-alcoholic beers.

Many breweries produce specialty brews that have additives; please check the label and do not assume that all varieties are acceptable. Furthermore, beers known to be produced at microbreweries, pub breweries, or craft breweries require certification.

Bourbon

In general, bourbon does not require kosher certification. Two exceptions are:

1 - Some have begun adding flavors and/or aging the liquor in wine casks. Such items would not be acceptable without certification, and consumers can determine if a given liquor has this issue by carefully reading the bottle's label.

2 - Some bourbon companies are owned by Jews who do not sell their chametz; those brands are not recommended and are listed below. See [\[here\]\[http://bit.ly/r1mVc\]](http://bit.ly/r1mVc) for details.

Irish Whisky

Many Irish Whiskies are aged in casks that previously held sherry, sauterne, port or other wines. Others have special “finishes” or multiple “maturations” that include wine. All of these practices raise kashrus concerns. The cRc policy is that Irish Whisky is permitted unless the label states that it is aged in a wine cask, has a special finish, or an extra maturation (as noted above). Consumers who wish to adopt this stance should read the label of each bottle before using it, and avoid wording such as double or triple finish, double or triple matured, dual casks or finish, European or French casks, Madeira finish, port, sauterne, or sherry. The cRc listings of recommended and not-recommended Irish Whiskies follows a stricter standard than the one listed above, and only includes Irish Whiskies that are certified and/or are known to not have any contact with wine or wine casks.

Soju

Soju requires certification.

Tequila

There are four types of tequila: Blanco (white/silver), Oro (brown/gold), Reposado (aged), and Añejo (extra aged). [Unflavored] Blanco is recommended without hashgachah, but the other three require certification to avoid concerns that flavor, color, and glycerin were added.
